Fire and Shooting Kill Four In Venice

Blaze Destroys Home, Killing Three Children; Uncle Shot in Fracas

A Venice man was shot fatally by a police officer and three small children burned to death in Venice yesterday in a bizarre sequence of events that included arrest of the dead children's father on eight charges growing out of the shooting.

Victim of the shooting was Allen Cox, 28, of 265 Slough road, Venice, uncle of the three children who had died only a few hours earlier in an explosion and fire that destroyed their home.

Dead in the fire were Lisa Cox, two, and her brothers, Eugene Jr., four, and George, 11 months old. Their parents were not at home when flames enveloped the four-room house at 515 Slough road, Eugene Cox, father of the children was at work at General Steel Industries when the shooting victim, Eugene Cox, was at the Madison bank when the fire started.

Shooting Follows Fight

Cox was fatally shot and wounded by Patrolman John Crook of the Venice police department about 6:45 p.m., as the aftermath of a fight at the Robin's Nest Tavern, 113 Slough road, where the shooting victim, Eugene Cox, father of the dead children, and other members of the Cox family were gathered, police said.

The shooting took place when Allen Cox and his brother Eugene, who were being taken to police headquarters in a squad car, attacked Crook in the car. Allen attempted to wrest his gun from Crook, Crook managed to bring the car to a stop and tumbled out of the driver's seat as Eugene Cox came out of the rear seat and started toward him. Crook said he fired one shot into the patrol car. The bullet struck Allen Cox in the right side.

Cox died in St. Elizabeth Hospital at 9:21 p.m. on the operating table.

Near Riot at Tavern

A near riot occurred outside the tavern when a crowd of 30 to 40 persons became threatening as Crook attempted to arrest Eugene and Allen Cox for fighting inside the tavern. Madison police and another squad car, driven by Patrolman John Mehan, arrived during the disturbance.

The fight between the two Cox brothers began, a witness said, when Eugene wanted to go home with his sister, Gloria Cox, who also was in the group. Allen, the witness said, didn't believe Eugene.

GC Man Killed at McKinley Bridge

Fred J. Marsett, 66, Drives into Divider; May Have Had Attack

Fredrick J. Marsett, 66, of 2549 Cleveland Blvd., became the first traffic fatality in the quads this year when his St. Louis car struck the McKinley bridge divider railing at 6:55 a.m. today.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:10 a.m. according to incident reports. It is believed he may have suffered a heart attack. An inquest will be conducted by Deputy Coroner Robert E. Marsett, an engineer for the U.S. Army Mobility Equipment Research Center in St. Louis, was enroute to work at the time of the accident.

Going Up Approach

Operators at the bridge toll booth said he had stopped and paid his fair and was proceeding up the slightly inclined bridge approach when he appeared to lose control and the car crashed into the concrete based divider railing.

The accident was one of seven which occurred in the area since Monday. Two persons were injured.

Portable Toll Station

Theft of a $75, 17-inch portable television set from the Bobs Auto Sales office, Sixth and State streets was reported to Madison police Wednesday morning by the proprietor, Robert Milankovic.

He said the thief broke a padlock off the door on the bus used as an office and in addition to the TV also took the keys for a 1965 Ford Mustang. The keys were found in the car which was still on the lot.

Burglary at Drive-In

Three boxes of cigars, two cartons of peanuts containing 20 packages each and three tins of aspirin, all valued at $20, were stolen in a burglary at Ray's drive-in restaurant, 210 Highway 203, Cloverleaf, it was reported to the county sheriff's office at 6 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a service window.

Morris Roney, 3701 Pontoon road, reported at 2:30 p.m. Monday that about 2 1/2 weeks ago new apartments at 2226-30 Kilary drive, were entered and were damaged. Stolen were two nylon car seats valued at $100 and a mirror valued at $20.

Thief Loots Car

A thief broke into the car of Ted Nezikinski, 1430 Third street, Madison, while it was parked at a drive-in restaurant. Stolen were a radio, a television set, a stereo, several accessories and cracked the windshield. Nezikinski (Continued on Page 22, Col. 8.)

Supervisors Veto Board of Appeals Denials on Zoning

Arguments over denials of special use permits by the county zoning board of appeals led the Madison county board of supervisors to veto two recommendations to approve the Wednesday board of appeals meeting in Edwardsville.

The supervisors meeting room was crowded with farmers to support the attempt of Clarence Kohne to obtain permission to construct and operate a livestock depot in St. Jacob township in an M-1 limited manufacturing district.

The zoning board of appeals, headed by Howard Kaseberg, denied Kohne's petition on grounds that he would degrade two nearby homes and was in the vicinity of a residential area.

Speaking to the board, Kohne said the livestock barn would serve 1000 farmers in shipping animals to processors, that only once a week operation was planned, that no livestock would be kept overnight and that state and county regulations would be followed.

13 Undergo Surgery At Local Hospital

The following underwent surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital:

A 12-inch pump saw valued at $480 and a chain saw valued at $160 were stolen from a Ross Construction Co. equipment storage yard.

May File Mandamus

Mayor later advised that the mayor continues to refuse to sign the expense allowance ordinance or checks or paid allowances to the appointed officials that mandamus proceedings could be undertaken and the matters placed in the hands of a court. "Then we'll all know," he added.

"That's one way to find out," Mayor Tarantiza remarked.

Non indicated that if enough of the expense allowance checks are held up, the aldermen might try mandamus action.

The mayor told council members that he had legal opinions stating expense allowances for appointed city officials are legal. The council and mayor have been disputing for two months the legality of expense allowances for aldermen, the mayor and appointed officials.

Alderman Rutledge, Finance committee chairman, offered to read from a state law pertaining to aldermen's expenses. But he had already read it and had legal opinions there were other state regulatory measures.

Started as Routine

The expense allowance issue came up as the routine bill list was presented to the council by the Finance Committee.

Alderman Robertson called for separation of the $50 allowances for Delbert Lampher, city maintenance man, and former police chief Raymond Willard, both for December. They had been rejected late in December.

Alderman Poulos asked for separation of the December $30 allowance for City Building Inspector Orville DeFour. It also was turned down late last month.

Then, Alderman Stenberg requested separation of the December $50 allowance for the bill list for Bartoski, Johnson, Non and Poulos, for $30 each (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

Redistricting City's Wards On 1st Reading-After Battle

Hope still prevails for the redistricting of Granite City's eight wards in time for the April 4 city election.

At Monday night's council session, stilling tactics were staged by several of the six protesting aldermen, and it was by a 10-6 vote that the ordinance went on for the first reading. Aldermen said that to be in time for the election, the ordinance needs to be adopted at next week's session.

Most vigorous in protesting the changes was First Ward Alderman Charles Moerlein. He blocked passage two weeks ago with a deferment motion.

When the motion for suspension of rules for passage was repeated Monday night, it failed to carry by the 10-6 vote, and as a move was made to place the bill on first reading, Moerlein requested a copy of the ordinance for study by each alderman "before any further action is taken."

Maps 3 Weeks Old

Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Special Redistricting committee, told Moerlein that copies of new ward boundary maps were given to each alderman three weeks ago and that each alderman should be familiar with the new wards by now.

Moerlein said he didn't know if lines were on one side of a street or on the other. Rutledge told him "They're down the middle of the streets."

Aldermen opposed to the redistricting plan are—Moerlein and Dallas of the First Ward; Whitner and Bartoski of the Second; Green of the Fourth; and Robertson of the Seventh. The terms of Moerlein, Whitner and Green expire this year.

The 10 aldermen favoring the new ward plan are—Boyd and Poulos of the Third Ward; Rutledge of the Fourth; Non and Bartoski of the Fifth; "Parnley and Fry of the Sixth; and Robertson of the Seventh and Thompson and Johnson of the Eighth.

Major Changes

Under the new plan, the First Ward would extend into East Granite, and the Second Ward would extend into the Third Ward.

Jr. College Vote May Be April 29

Date for a referendum on the proposal to establish the Lewis & Clark Junior College District in Madison, Jersey and parts of six other counties will be set for April 29, County School Superintendent Wilbur R. L. Trimpe announced this week.

The vote was approved in a meeting of the superintendents of the school districts involved and was submitted last night to the junior college steering committee.

Trimpe said that while the election must be called within 90 days from the date the proposal was approved by the state board, he does not believe that the election actually be held within the 90 days.

The superintendents agreed to submit April 1 as a referendum date if Trimpe leaves the election to be held within the 90-day period.

If the proposed district is approved by the voters, Trimpe said a governing board for the district must be elected before June 1 in order to be in session for the 1967-68 school year.

Controlled Stevens.

The aldermen present were Rutledge, Whitner, Moerlein, Stenberg, Thompson, Fry and Green. The meeting was held to complete business not reached before the 11 o'clock council meeting Monday night.

Stenberg, who heads the Special Sewer committee, reviewed past actions by the council and the federal construction grant of $1,500,000 was awarded last Nov. 22, date because it was the same day as the city election and the sewer program would be a campaign issue, that the council believed the bond vote should be held after the election.

"If it's before the election, it still can be candidate campaign issue. If we wait until mid-May, then the newly-elected aldermen will be serving, and there will still be time for proper presentation to the people."

Moerlein, a member of the committee along with Bartoski, said the committee majority was concerned over the fate of the sewer program if the $1,500,000 bond issue proposal failed to carry.

Committee Majority

He said that Bartoski, who was not present for the adjourned meeting, "favored a March 18 election date with a ballot measure on the sewer program for Granite City to vote on."

GC Sewer Program Now Needs Engineer

A contract with Horace Calvo to serve as bond engineer, Calvo was named by the council over the protests of the city's Bond Attorney Stall.

The mayor replied that he still was undecided and was waiting for the committee to get moving.

Stenberg went on to say he believed the sewer program was a campaign issue, that the council believed the bond vote should be held after the election.

"If it's before the election, it still can be candidate campaign issue. If we wait until mid-May, then the newly-elected aldermen will be serving, and there will still be time for proper presentation to the people."

Moerlein, a member of the committee along with Bartoski, said the committee majority was concerned over the fate of the sewer program if the $1,500,000 bond issue proposal failed to carry.

Council Showdown Nears On Expense Allowances

Progressing further toward a showdown, Granite City council members voted approval of $30 monthly expense allowances for five aldermen Monday night while rejecting payment of $50 allowances for three of the mayor's appointed officials.

Earlier in the meeting, State Atty. Leon Scroggie advised the council by letter that his office would not be able to get opinions from the state attorney general's office concerning the $25 payment to aldermen for council meetings not attended.

"That shows," Alderman Non commented, "that we are the legislative body and until proven wrong, what we do is law. The state attorney has been advised that the attorney general won't rule on city laws, so the only way to prove that we're wrong is to go into court."

May File Mandamus

Mayor later advised that the mayor continues to refuse to sign the expense allowance ordinance or checks or paid allowances to the appointed officials that mandamus proceedings could be undertaken and the matters placed in the hands of a court. "Then we'll all know," he added.

"That's one way to find out," Mayor Tarantiza remarked.

Non indicated that if enough of the expense allowance checks are held up, the aldermen might try mandamus action.

The mayor told council members that he had legal opinions stating expense allowances for appointed city officials are legal. The council and mayor have been disputing for two months the legality of expense allowances for aldermen, the mayor and appointed officials.

Alderman Rutledge, Finance committee chairman, offered to read from a state law pertaining to aldermen's expenses. But he had already read it and had legal opinions there were other state regulatory measures.

State Tells GC to Get S. Nameok Road R-O-W

Delay Could Cancel Project This Year; City Plans Quick Action

A warning from the state highway department that the South Nameok road project "may be deleted from this year's program, since the right-of-way acquisition appears to be so far behind" brought fast response from Granite City council members Monday night.

Arrangements are being made for a special meeting of the council with state highway officials on Jan. 30 to make certain the project will get under way this year.

Mayor Parnley said that of the more than 100 tracts and parcels of ground needed for the right-of-way only 10 will have to go to the state for the quick-track process. "All the rest are signed up," he added.

Prior to Jan. 30, the city will proceed with clarification of all right-of-way details. Alderman Fry called for a speed-up in this work by the city's legal staff and the right-of-way negotiators to assure compliance with the state's demands. Parnley also urged fast action "so that money won't go to fix fillets in Chicago."

5 Months to Condemn

The letter from Robert E. Krontz, state highway district engineer, urged prompt action, since it would take the state about five months to initiate immediate action to obtain properties.

"You can see," Krontz said, "that this is an essence. If we would start condemnation action right now, it would take us about the middle of the year to obtain the land."

Plans are for all detail work to be done by the Jan. 30 meeting, comply with the state's request for quick action on right-of-way acquisition. Council members noted that Krontz emphasized a 17 1/2% cut in federal funds to states for highways.

The state has budgeted $700,000 for the widening and repaving work and $40,000 for right-of-way acquisition in its 1967 highway program.

Alderman Stenberg, street committee chairman, said the only appraisal made by the city and not accepted by the state has been for the tract needed at St. John's Cemetery.

He added that the state changed its right-of-way requirements along the cemetery, necessitating further appraisal work. The $100 fee for the task, submitted by Andrew Gasparovic III, was increased to $275 because of the extra work. The council approved payment of the bill.

Council members also are making preparations to acquire needed right-of-way for the intersections within Federal Aid Route 151 in the city.

Stenberg gave data on needed widths, and Alderman Non pointed out that in the city-state contract for the project through the city, the state is to pay right-of-way costs for widening the intersections. The city would have to pay for the paving.

The three intersections will be at Rock road, at West 20th street and at Niedringhaus avenue.

Draft Call Tomorrow For 7 Local Youths

Seven Quacy youths are scheduled to be drafted tomorrow and are to report at 6:30 a.m. to the county selective service office in Edwardsville.

February quotas for the county were announced Monday afternoon at the office in Edwardsville. The "Quacy quota" for next month will be two men to be drafted Feb. 10—the same date three Edwardsville area youths were to report for induction.

Alton area has a quota of four men to be drafted on Feb. 2.

No youths are to be called for pre-induction physical examinations during February. This month, 19 local youths reported Jan. 11 for pre-draft physicals.

Sewage Treatment Plant Accepted Monday by City

A resolution for final acceptance of Granite City's new sewage treatment plant was approved Monday night by the council to meet a deadline to get the amount due on a $484,610 bond issue used to build the plant at the Army Depot. It went into operation last year. Due from the federal government is $130,140.

Several aldermen expressed dissatisfaction with drainage and landscaping at the plant, but those voting against the resolution were Nann, Bartosiak, Johnson and Poulos.

Moerlein, chairman of the Special Pollution Plant committee, said he plans to call upon the contractor to remedy drainage problems on floors in settling tank buildings and downspouts off the filter building.

He reminded Mayor Partney that the federal government also is wanting information on the city's regulations of pollutants being put into the sewers by industries. The mayor said he would send off the data now that the plant has been accepted by the city.

Alderman Johnson said he has been advised the plant superintendent has a Class 3 license instead of a Class 2 license.

An open house was held at the treatment plant Jan. 8 and 9.

Talk by National Scouting Trainer

Frank Preston, assistant national director of volunteer training of the Boy Scouts of America, said here Tuesday night that the new theme of "Scouting Rounds a Guy Out" will extensively change the scout program at all age levels beginning in September.

A professional scout 33 years, and in scouting a total of 45 years, Preston spoke at an annual dinner arranged by Dr. Leo M. Coleman for the leadership training committee of the Uniwah (Quad-City) scout district. About 40 persons attended the event, held at the Grand Cafe annex.

A five-year Air Force veteran in world war II, Preston has been assistant national training director for 11 years. He travels widely in Region Seven, composed of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, and in Region 10, which extends west as far as Montana.

A speaker outlined techniques in conducting effective training sessions and answered questions on a variety of scouting topics. He said scouting is the world's largest volunteer youth movement, being exceeded in numbers only by non-voluntary Communist youth groups in Russia and China.

Character building is the key to scouting, Preston said, noting that Nazis developed an extremely effective youth program in terms of achieving their national goals, but unfortunately chose objectives that undermined character.

Commissioner service to scouting units is the way to build a successful Boy Scout program, Preston commented, adding that the three mainstays of a pack, troop or post are leadership, an interesting activity schedule and a close relationship between the unit and its sponsoring institution.

Charles Rodell, new training chairman of the district, and Dr. Coleman called attention to winter sports training sessions and to scout skill demonstrations and entertainment planned for 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 12, at Dunbar school in Madison.

Eugene Coe, Cahokia Mound Council executive, said G. H. Sternberg of Granite City will be chairman of a regional training seminar March 4 in Jacksonville.

Milburn P. Akers, retired editor of the Chicago Sun-Times, will be among the speakers on the program of the Southern Illinois Better Business Bureau on "The Abstraction That is Ethics," John Gardner on "The Southern Illinoisan Striker," C. E. Townsend on "The Arch," Tom Monroe of the Collingville Herald on "Instant Printing—How We Use It," and Irwin A. Yare, O'Fallon, William McAdams, Jerseyville, and Robert Vorts, Waterloo, three new users of offset presses, on the subject "Are We Sorry?"

A business meeting will be held at 4:05 p.m. with Karl M. Schroeder, president, presiding. Committee reports will be given and suggestions for a spring meeting program discussed.

In his report to stockholders, Bank President Harold F. Karandjoff said the growth of business and residences in the area served by the bank will show substantial increase during 1967.

"The widening of Nameoki road from the city limits to Madison avenue has been substantially completed and will contribute greatly to the continuing growth of the area."

"During 1966 improvements and enlargements of the bank's parking lot were made to better serve the increased number of customers, and plans are being made for further improvements during 1967," he said.

Koerper reported that about 80% of the bank's checking accounts has been converted to electronic data processing accounting and the remainder will be changed within a few days.

"The advantages in accuracy and efficiency resulting from the change exceeds those expected, and has proven to be of great benefit to the bank's customers as well as the bank," he said.

GC May Boost Street Supt. Pay

An increase of $1200 for Granite City's superintendent of streets was proposed Tuesday night during an adjourned meeting of the city council.

Only eight aldermen were present at the time, and no action was taken on the recommendation of Alderman Sternberg, chairman of the Street committee.

He noted that the present salary is $7800 a year, or $650 a month, which is only $15 in excess of the street superintendent's salary paid to street department foremen.

He proposed a figure of $9000 a year, $550 a month. In addition to his pay, the street superintendent has been getting a $50 monthly expense allowance. However, all expense allowances are under fire by the council and mayor, and no one has received any for December.

Mayor Partney told the council that the election date for street superintendent and mayor should be the same to comply with state law. He suggested the present system be changed. The elections now are two years apart.

Filing for city offices, including street superintendent, now is open. Incumbent Street Supt. William Walling is seeking reelection, and several other candidates are in the offing.

"Work night" was held Monday at the Hurd-Hend Bend volunteer fire department hall by Ervin Mueller, Don King, Virgil Layton, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Berger and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson.

Rainford Named to Board Of Madison County S&L

At its annual meeting of shareholders Wednesday afternoon, Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association re-elected as directors—A. F. Buente Jr., R. H. Chambers, R. B. Dunlap, A. R. Froelming, E. L. Hopkins, J. L. Palchick, J. W. Reese and Gilbert Rosch. W. C. Rainford was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late W. W. Huxel.

Rainford, formerly president of Mercantile Mortgage Co., is a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, immediate past president of the St. Louis Chapter of that organization and was a regional vice-president and member of the board of governors of the Mortgage Bankers Association.

Officers re-elected were: Froelming, president; Buente and Rosch, vice-presidents; C. P. Specking, secretary; treasurer and N. L. Jackson, assistant secretary.

The annual report to shareholders suggested that an increase in savings funds and improvement in the supply of home mortgage credit is likely for 1967.

The report, issued by President Froelming, showed that assets of the association had risen to $8,614,379, an increase of 2.31%. Savings balances amounted to $7,729,463 at the end of 1966 as compared to $7,119,018 at the close of the preceding year.

Froelming noted that in the face of stepped-up savings competition, the year-to-year change in savings balances was very encouraging. The report also showed that dividends totaling $327,926 were paid to accountholders in 1966.

During the year the association invested $132,550 in mortgage loans and the total of the loans at the close of the year amounted to $7,750,083.

The report, looking ahead to 1967 said there is no doubt that the "tight money" year of 1966 presented challenges for the savings and loan business and the real estate and housing industry.

"As we move into 1967, however, the picture is brighter," Froelming continued. "In recent months, savings inflows have begun to pick up slightly, interest rates seemed to reach their peak, and there seems to be a slight settling down in the economy."

"Barring escalation of the war in Vietnam and further increase in non-military spending by the federal government, there is reason to hope for some easing of the 'tight money' conditions of the past year. If this assumption is realized, then 1967 should mean an increase in the flow of savings dollars into Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association and some improvement in the flow of home mortgage funds."

"The impact of this expected improvement, however, will be gradual. Housing starts, which have been severely curtailed by lack of mortgage lending funds, will probably drop even more during the early part of the year. However, with the expected increase in the flow of savings we expect that mortgage lending during 1967 will show a considerable increase over what we were able to channel into the housing market during the past year."

"We expect 1967 to be another year of progress and satisfactory development," he concluded.

The First National Bank in Madison announced plans in its annual reorganization meeting Tuesday night for complete transition to automation in its banking systems this year. A "service" to the customers and to the community which we feel is our responsibility."

The automation plans were announced by Dr. John E. Lee, president of the bank and mayor of Venice, during a board meeting in which six members of the bank's board of directors

The new director, a long-time stockholder in the bank, is in the auditing department at Union Star & Refining Co. He resides at 30 Bend road.

Dr. Lee said automation of the bank's bookkeeping system through installation of the most up-to-date equipment will require from six to nine months.

"The bank feels that by such move it can give improved service to the customers and the community which we feel is our responsibility," Dr. Lee said.

Dr. Lee announced that the bank during 1966 paid stockholders $20 per share in four quarterly dividends of $5 each, the same amount as paid last year.

"Due to investments and plans for automation, we expect 1967 year to be the best in the history of the bank," Dr. Lee added.

Following the stockholders meeting, the board elected Dr. Lee as president; Gilcho, executive vice-president and cashier; Miss Frances Aydes and Mrs. Dorothy Shaba, assistant cashiers, and James Foley, auditor and assistant secretary to the board.

American Nat'l. Deposits Up; Two New Officers

A 10% increase in deposits during 1966 was reported yesterday by Harold F. Karandjoff, president of the American National Bank, during the annual meeting of the bank's stockholders.

New officers elected included Bonard Maples as assistant cashier and Mrs. Henrietta Johnson as auditor. The officers re-elected were Henry D. Karandjoff, board chairman; Harold F. Karandjoff, president; Charles J. Baricovic, vice-president; Arthur R. Koerper, cashier, and Miss Sylvia Roy and Mrs. Helen Mangoff, assistant cashiers.

Maples had been employed as a teller by the bank since 1965, and prior to 1965 he was a foreman for General Steel Industries. He supervises all teller transactions of the bank.

Maples is active in the Kiwanis Club, is a deacon and a treasurer of the Third Baptist Church and is a member of Granite City Masonic Lodge 877 and Scottish Rite bodies. He and his wife, Laura, live at 2653 Delmar avenue.

Mrs. Johnson has been employed by the bank since 1960 and has experience in financial accounting, a n.d. bookkeeping. Her husband, Charles, is employed by the Illinois department of highways. They are members of the N.A.M.E.K.I. Methodist Church.

MORE ABOUT Council

and Moerlein for $60 for November and December.

After the remaining bill list was approved, Non called for payment of the aldermanic expense allowances. Approval was given by a vote of 12-0-4.

Voting to pay the allowances were Non, Whitner, Barisich, Bartoski, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Moerlein, Parnley, Robertson, Poulos and Green. Against the payment were Rutledge, Sternberg, Thompson and Fry.

Madison—"Not to Pay"
Poulos then made a motion that the allowances for the three appointed officials "not be paid." The vote was 11-0-5 not to pay, with Whitner being the only switcher.

Later in the meeting, Alderman Sternberg said that based on the City Code of Government, the council had been in error "two weeks ago in its method of overriding two votes by Mayor Partney. He suggested that the proper procedure be followed and that the matters had to be reconsidered before a motion is made to override a veto."

It was noted that with an improper procedure, the mayor "could sit indefinitely on measures which he had vetoed and the vetoes overridden."

Alderman Boyd challenged Sternberg's interpretation, saying the council had followed its usual procedure. "With Sternberg, this is personal."

The ordinances vetoed by the mayor and overridden by the council session, the aldermen approved, township bills totaling $4883, of which $1380 was for town expenses and $3500 for relief purposes.

Father of GC Woman Carves Violins During Long, Dark Alaskan Winters

Ever wonder what Alaskans do during their long, cold and dark winters? Well, one, Frank Hobson, father of Mrs. Charles Keel of 2205 Edwards street, manufactures violins.

He and his wife, Wally, a second generation Alaskan Indian, also visit their family of six, widely scattered, if possible.

A native of Alaska, Hobson was born in 1902 in a small gold-mining town, which still processes the vital metal, Kina (pronounced Canyah). His father went to Alaska in 1897 in search of gold, beginning in Dawson, but later, beginning in Bend road.

At 2:05 p.m., a hearing will be held on the petition of Cecil C. Johnson owner, for rezoning a 2½-acre tract in Nameoki township near State Route 31 to be rezoned from agricultural to R-3 one-family residence district.

after he married an Eskimo, he settled down in Kina to run a wood sawing business.

At an early age Hobson became fond of the violin, but could never afford to purchase one or to take lessons to play. He began working as a boy, laying track for the first railroad built in Alaska.

Later he worked on steamboats, transporting freight and machinery along the Alaskan coast.

Government Mechanic

In 1938, he started working for the Alaskan territorial government as a mechanic, a job from which he retired in 1958. That same year Alaska was voted statehood, and he immediately took another job as a mechanic with the new state government.

While raising a family of six, the urge to play the violin became strong again and not having funds, he borrowed a violin from a friend. Cautiously and carefully he dismantled the violin, to see how it was constructed. He put the instrument back together and returned it to his friend. Then, with no more knowledge, he carved his own violin from local wood.

Later on, he began importing fine-aged spruce and maple from Germany to give his violins better tonal quality. "Alaskan wood expands and contracts too much to retain tonal quality," he commented.

How to Make a Violin

Hobson, who has made 45 violins since 1952, says that some of his earlier violins should now be reaching a stage of aging where the tonal quality becomes richer. "Stradivarius and Guarneri violins are so highly valued, because of the precious aging — tone is rich and subtle," he explained.

"Violins do not come in a kit form, like wooden model airplanes, they are carved from pieces of solid maple and spruce which has been aged from 25 weeks, working evenings and Saturdays. While visiting his daughter, Pauline, this week, Hobson played his violin for the congregation of the Grace Baptist Church, where his daughter is a member. "Usually, wherever I go, one of my violins goes with me."

BOTH ARTISTS—Mrs. Pauline Keel, 2205 Edwards street, adds to a still life painting while her father, Frank Hobson, a native Alaskan, plays a violin he made himself for his grandchildren here.

Living Conditions in Alaska

Hobson, who lives on a 65-acre homestead half-way between Anchorage and Fairbanks, said that during the brief summer he hunts moose and caribou and fishes for salmon.

"We drive a short way up the road and stock up on moose and caribou—which we use for meat year round."

Mrs. Hobson said meat and produce prices are about double the "Lower 48" prices. Whenever Alaskans refer to state-of-the-art, they mean it.

"We have beef, pork and chicken dishes occasionally, but caribou, moose and salmon are delicious, so why not take advantage of the bounty of 'free' food."

She added that she bakes all of her own bread and pastries, except for commercial bread she buys for toast. A loaf of bread costs 50 cents at her local supermarket.

58 Degrees Below

Hobson, who live near Glenn Allen, a town with a population of 500, have no grievances about living in Alaska. During the peak of the winter, the thermometer drops to 58 degrees below zero, and Hobson said a normal temperature would be 30 degrees below.

Hot weather for them is 30 degrees above zero.

"In Alaska there is little humidity during the winter, so the cold isn't as penetrating as it is in Granite City."

The Hobson home lies in a valley surrounded by hills and snow peaks and little or no snow falls in the valley.

Hobson, who does not intend to retire until he is forced to, will have 18 of his violins being played in local Alaska Centennial celebrations. He has received as high as $250 for one violin and has sold as many as 18 at one time to a music store.

You are in the area on the Richardson road, the only highway which is through to Anchorage or Fairbanks and connects with the Alaskan highway in Canada, passes through Glenn Allen, stop by and see me," he added.

Madison-Venice Schools Seeking Materials Grant

An application for a federal grant of $204,538 over a three-year period has been made for the proposed Madison-Venice audio-visual materials center under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, the Madison board of education was informed Tuesday.

The voluminous, detailed application is subject to study and approval by the U.S. Office of Education in Washington, and "we must wait and hope that it is approved," Supt. Raymond Dragich remarked.

The program would provide film strips, transparencies, records and other materials and related equipment for students in the Madison and Venice school districts, including St. Mary's and St. Mark's parochial schools.

The two school districts are requesting $103,270 for the 1967-68 school year, $40,510 for the following school year and $45,014 for the third school year.

Ward of the work in preparing the application was done during the Christmas holidays by volunteer staff members headed by Joseph Naglich of Madison high school, Dragich said.

Backgrounds Cited

The application notes that a large percentage of the students being served by these two districts and by the non-profit schools which are located within the geographical confines of these two districts come from homes having low socio-economic backgrounds.

"Although many social and cultural advantages are available nearby in St. Louis, few exist in our immediate area. A large percentage of the students served herein are not given the opportunity to take advantage of any cultural facilities."

"The educational facilities and curriculum that exist in the attendance centers being covered by this project are for the most part textbook oriented and therefore seem to be inadequate in the raising of the academic level of these students."

"It is further evident from the results of achievement tests which have been administered in this geographical area through the years that these students have ranked consistently below the national norms."

"Same method of improving and strengthening our curriculum is needed so that these children will be able to cope, on a more equal basis, with students from other areas in all phases of their future life."

On-the-Job Training

Dragich also reported to the school board that he is conferring with Thomas Cardwell, federal official assigned to the "on-the-job training program," on a proposal to establish the program in the school district.

He said that new custodians, secretaries, teacher aides and other non-teaching personnel could be covered under the supervision of teachers and principals for a certain period of training. The school district would be reimbursed for the cost of about $20 per week for each employee.

The board authorized participation in the program in the future if the district qualifies.

An application also was authorized to the State Department of Health to obtain its mobile dental clinic in a dental health program for indigent children if it meets the approval of the Tri-City Dental Society.

High School Being Finished

Dragich reported that construction on senior high school additions is about completed and that the buildings should be officially turned over to the board of education in about two weeks.

A report from the state school cafeteria inspector who visited the area in December showed that the district cafeteria met type A requirements and that equipment and facilities are excellent. It added that plate waste is nominal.

The inspector recommended that the price of adult plate costs

BEWARE OF AMATEUR MEDICAL ADVISERS

It seems that almost everybody is eager to practice medicine. Mention having an ailment of any kind and even the most helpful friends to advertising medicine men offer a treatment. They are like the blind leading the blind.

The fallacy of amateurs is that they only treat symptoms of sickness, not the cause. Only a physician has the knowledge to diagnose what is causing the trouble. Once this is known, a cure often results. The physician prescribes the particular medicine his long studies and experience dictate is best. That is why prescriptions are more effective than patent medicines. We can fill any prescription.

Coach Earl McClanahan said it was probably the worst defensive performance Madison has shown this season. "They also beat us on the boards. In the first half of the game we scored on only four offensive rebounds."

Venice Downs Worden 74-54 in League Game

The second place Venice Red Devils, after a cold first period, won an MCM Conference game by downing the Worden Trojans 74-54 in the Venice basketball court Tuesday night.

Venice now sports a 6-1 conference record and a 14-3 overall record in cage play this season.

After Worden took a 12-10 edge at the end of the first period, the Red Devils lost the ball twice on steals but then began to connect and to capitalize on Worden mistakes. Venice jumped ahead 23-16 at one time. Worden countered, though, and two buckets and a free throw later was within two points of tying the game.

Venice play-maker Rich Essington added the lead by sinking four charity shots, making the score at the half 22-23.

Foul Trouble Develops
In the third period, players on both teams found themselves in foul trouble, Essington and Denny Hill totaled four for Venice and Trojans Fred Radac, Lynn Scheibel and Don Schaefer each had four fouls.

The Red Devils enlarged their lead to 49-38 over Worden in the third period. Worden players Schaefer, Scheibel and Radace all fouled out early in the final period, with Red Devil Hill joining them midway through the period.

Essington, despite being handicapped with four fouls, continued his aggressive play and picked off seven rebounds before fouling out with 11 seconds left in the game.

Essington paced the Red Devils with 26 points, sinking 16 out of 20 charity shot attempts. John Gardner followed with 11 points. Lloyd Harper and Russell Turner had 10 points each, Greg Puett and Benny Hill six points each and Bob MacIntosh five.

Scout Klondike Derby If Snow by Saturday

Will there be snow on the ground Saturday at Cahokia Mount State Park? Cahokia Mount Council Boy Scouts do not know, but they are ready with sleds for annual "Klondike derby" competition. The derby is scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday but will be postponed one week or two weeks if necessary in order to have a snow setting. If there are no postponements, it will be held Feb. 4 regardless of the weather. About 420 scout stock parts in the event, which opens with sled races and concludes with judging in rope work, first-aid, compass and other outdoor scouting skills.

All events will be held on the south side of old Route 40. Uniform patches will be given at the close of the derby, and ribbons will be sent to each patrol that 229 participants. Trophies for the top three sled winners are on display at the council office in Granite City.

The clever man bags his game 615 without the aid of a gun—he just plays his cards right.

Where Did the Lunkers Go? SIU Fish Researcher Tells

Have you ever wondered why a newly opened lake or fishing area draws fishermen to it, with record amounts of bass being reported for the first couple of years, and then by the time you have a chance to try the lake three or four years later you come home with dead minnows and dried up worms?

William Lewis, director of Southern Illinois University's cooperative fisheries research laboratory, tells why. He concludes that bass grow fast in new reservoirs or lakes because there is a large amount of easily catchable food for them. These prime "forage organisms"—tadpoles, bluegrasses, crayfish and certain sunfish—may be virtually eliminated by the bass within a few years.

When this happens regular feeding is also eliminated and bass growth slows; meanwhile, other species survive and prosper, worsening the overall feeding condition.

Lewis feels that these conditions are the No. 1 determinant of a lake's production limit, and that only about 150 to 200 pounds of fish per acre can survive under these circumstances.

He says, though, that with artificial feeding the limit can go to between 1500 and 2000 pounds. If the choice food is there and catchable, bass will grow large; if it is not there, there will be 150 to 200 pounds of bass or bluegill or whatever on the same acreage, but each fish will be smaller.

"A problem, when you get a population shift such as one that occurs when bluegill multiply to the detriment of bass growth, is to make the bluegill more vulnerable to bass predation," Lewis says. "You can do this to some extent with a drawdown (dropping a lake's level), but this is only a partial solution."

Lewis is of the opinion that new techniques could be developed enabling fish management people to control the vulnerable to bass predation," Lewis says.

He says that in new lakes and ponds, bass will consume 66% of their body weight in food each day during the feeding period (water temperature, 55 degrees). Their intake will drop in half that as prime forage is eaten up.

Bill Barring St. Louis Trash Filed in House

A bill that would prevent transportation of rubbish from St. Louis to Illinois for disposal in Madison and St. Clair county landfills was introduced Tuesday in the Illinois House at Springfield.

The bill was submitted by State Rep. Sam Vadabene (D), of Edwardsville. He said such a bill also would aid the abatement of air pollution in the bi-county area as well as other parts of the state.

Vadabene said he understands much of the refuse, rubbish and other wastes which are burned in Illinois landfills come from St. Louis and parts of Missouri.

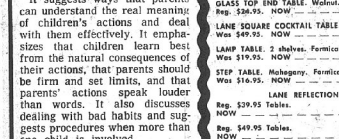

The bill provides that any violator could be enjoined from further violations through court action. Violators also could be fined not less than $500 and not more than $5000 for each violation.

Motorsists complained yesterday that smoke from a dump at the east approach to the old Chain of Rocks bridge was obscuring their view. Chouteau township residents have been filing similar complaints with county authorities in recent months.

Officers and new elders were elected at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

Chosen were Don Laughlin, superintendent of Sunday school; George Chapman and Mrs. Ida Handfeler, assistants; and Dee Whiteside and Jack Felkins, elders.

William Lynch and Felix Oster were received into the church by baptism and Mrs. Erna LeGendre was welcomed by transfer of letter.

The spotlight will focus on men when members of the First Baptist Church of Mitchell conduct Baptist Men's Day Jan. 22. Announcement of the special emphasis was made by Rev. Bill Bellman, pastor of the church, which is located at 608 English place.

The First Baptist Church is one of 15,000 churches throughout the Southern Baptist convention which will recognize men on this day. Beginning in 1933, Baptist Men's Day has been held as an annual event in most Baptist churches.

Features of the day's program and activities will include a fellowship breakfast, testimonies, special recognition and special singing by men. Sponsor of the special day is the Men's Unit, of which Alvin Bertram is president.

to ignite the gas. A cable and track are being installed up the stack now.

Cable Track in Few Weeks

"Granite City Steel has informed the Air Pollution Board that we expect to have the cable and track in place in a matter of weeks and to complete the escape of the natural gas and backup ignition system within less than three months.

As a precaution against the escape of any coke oven gas in the interim period, we have blocked open the valve to supply a continuous flare at the top of the stack," Gullett explained.

Biniecki said the technical secretary's complaint was based on four emissions of excessive hydrogen sulfide during the past April 1, 1965, to March 1966, and that hydrogen sulfide can cause house paint discoloration.

On Nov. 2 a hearing was convened by the board on the complaint, and Granite City Steel was given the St. Louis Testing Laboratory report upon which the complaint was based," the chairman added.

"The hearing was adjourned until Jan. 4 to allow Granite City Steel time to study the report. Without admitting the allegations of the complaint, the company has advised the board that it was taking immediate steps to insure that the future there would be no excessive emissions of hydrogen sulfide from the company's operations.

"The board's technical secretary advises that when consummated, the proposed action of the company should eliminate the hydrogen sulfide problem which has involved the coke oven vent stack. Upon completion of the program the hearing will be conducted March without further litigation," Biniecki stated.

Venice Post's Sons of Legion Drill Team 'Getting Ready'

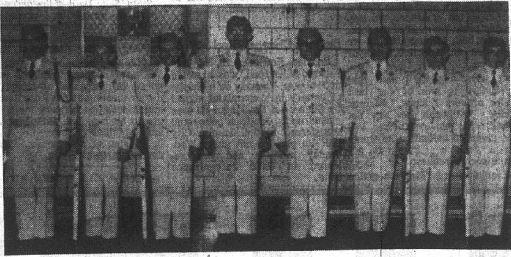

Hoping to sharpen their drilling techniques to perfection, members of the local Sons of the Legion drill team currently are practicing twice-a-week in preparation for the annual Illinois championship drill contests to be held this summer in Chicago. Michael E. Leatherman, who serves as adult adviser to Squadron 307, said today the boys are "getting ready."

Sponsored by the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, the youth organization is one of the most active units of its type in Illinois.

Earlier this week, the drill squad served as honor guard during preliminary ceremonies at the Legion's 22nd District meeting at Dupo. Seventeen American Legion posts were represented at the district event.

Recently, the squadron's drill team members were outfitted in renovated cream-colored uniforms. When performing they carry chrome-plated Enfield rifles of pre-war World War one vintage, each weighing about ten pounds.

Membership in the Sons of the Legion is open to boys whose fathers are Legionnaires. Leatherman explained. No age limits are specified for those joining the organization. The youngest member is three-month-old Michael T. Leatherman, said, pointing out the youngest and presently inactive member is three-month-old Michael T. Leatherman.

Squadron 307 holds official meetings at 2 p.m. on the second Saturday of each month in the Post Dugout on Broadway, Venice. Members sponsor fund-raising events, such as barbecues, and also handle various maintenance chores around the post home, as well as participating in parades and ceremonies at various Legion activities.

Dinner on Jan. 10 to Honor C. P. Whitehead

A recognition dinner to honor Charles P. Whitehead, retired chairman of the board and former president of General Steel Industries, Inc., will be held in the new cafeteria of the Granite City high school at 6:15 p.m. Monday, Jan. 30. It was announced today.

The dinner will be given by the "Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, which sponsored a similar affair in December 1951, to honor Mr. Whitehead for effecting return of the General Steel Industries executive offices to Granite City.

Henry D. Karandjef, board chairman of the bank, said the event is planned to honor Mr. Whitehead upon his retirement from the GSI board chairman position last April, "and for the many civic and business accomplishments in which he has played such an important part in the Quad-City area."

Karandjef said approximately 700 invitations to the dinner are being mailed to area civic and business leaders, municipal officials, hospital authorities and professional representatives.

Mr. Karandjef said that plans originally called for invitation of 1300 to 1400 persons, but this had to be limited when it was learned the capacity of the high school cafeteria was about 600 persons. As one means of trimming the invitation list, the affair was limited to "men only" guests. All stockholders of the bank will attend, he said.

Joined GSI in 1919, Mr. Whitehead, who joined General Steel Industries in 1919, served as president of the firm from 1945 until 1964 when he was named board chairman, the position from which he retired last April 21. He has remained as a member of the board and serves now as chairman of the finance committee. He lives in Clayton, Mo.

CHARLES P. WHITEHEAD

Mr. Whitehead has played leading roles in numerous Quad-City civic and welfare functions, including major financial drives in which he spearheaded industrial division campaigns.

He is a native of Bastrop, Texas, and a 1917 graduate of Culver Military Academy. He entered the shop and engineering department at the Commonwealth Steel Co., predecessor of General Steel Industries, and remained there until 1922 when he was named sales agent of the company. After seven years in that post, he was promoted in 1929 to sales assistant to the vice-president and general manager of the firm which then was known as General Steel Castings Corp. The firm name was changed to General Steel Industries, Inc., in 1961.

From 1931 until 1938 he served as manager of sales at Eddy-stone, Pa. He became vice-president of sales in May 1938 and in 1943 was promoted to vice-president of manufacturing, engineering and sales, a position he held until he became president in June 1945.

Returned Offices Here

Under Whitehead's administration, the company's offices located in Eddystone and St. Louis were returned to Granite City in 1945 and in the 1950's he started GSI on a diversification program responsible for much of its growth. He returned to Granite City from Eddystone when the offices were re-established here in 1945.

He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the National Defense Transportation Association, and belongs to the St. Louis Country Club, the Noodin Club and the Log Cabin, St. Louis.

In 1964, he was voted first "Boss of the Year" by the Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International, and was recipient of the Silver Beaver Award, highest Boy Scout award for civic activity. He received the Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews in 1966. He is a member of the board of the Missouri Botanical Gardens and a member of the St. Louis Crime Commission. He was general chairman of the United Fund drive in St. Louis in 1956, and in 1964 was president of the United Fund.

In addition to his directorship on the board of General Steel Industries, Mr. Whitehead also is a director on the boards of the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co., First National Bank in St. Louis, St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., St. Louis Union Trust Co. and the Southwest Bell Telephone Co.

Kaseberg Explains Farm Automation And Future Trends

Increased automation in the farming industry, fewer but larger farms and intensified application of sound business techniques in farm operation and management are trends expected to continue in agriculture over the next 20-year period.

Howard Kaseberg, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and a local businessman and farmer, discussed prospects, programs and trends in agriculture when he addressed Granite City Rotarians Tuesday afternoon on the topic, "Agriculture and Its Relation to Business."

Stressing the importance of making agriculture more effective to meet the needs of an increasing population, Kaseberg said that to be successful, the farmer must continue to look for and use methods to increase volume and efficiency of production.

Contractual Farming

Most single operation-type farms in future years will be geared to a specialized area, he said. Citing an example, Kaseberg explained that a large meat packing house may contract each phase relating to its final product to an individual farmer, such as breeding stock to one farm operator, fattening of cattle to another and feed grain production to a third.

Working under contractual agreements, individual farm operators would receive a guaranteed percentage of profit, thereby removing the year-by-year uncertainty of farm income and substantially increase production. Although the individual farmer in such an operation will essentially be working for a larger concern, Kaseberg said, he will still operate and maintain his own land. Expanded competition for farm products, plus implementation of streamlined methods should result in price reduction, he added.

Between 1959 and 1964, the number of farms in the U.S. decreased from 3.7 million to 3.2 million, Kaseberg said, noting that during the same five-year period farm values increased 27% and farm acreage by 16%. Present trends indicate that the farmer whose annual gross income totals less than $20,000 is fast going out of the agricultural picture in many areas. Assets totaling $150,000 are now required to produce farm incomes averaging the $20,000 figure.

Need to Forget Surpluses

Other trends show the need to forget about big surpluses, previously reflected in farming methods and production, and decide how best to produce enough to take care of future needs. Lessening of government controls in farming are expected, he said, however, removal of restrictions entirely is not anticipated in the foreseeable future.

Approximately 40 Rotarians attend the luncheon meetings at the YMCA. William Thoeke, president, conducted the business session, with A. C. Stover introducing the guests speaker and serving as program chairman.

In other action, members voted to hold the annual St. Valentine's Day dinner on Saturday, Feb. 18, at the Roundtable restaurant near Collinsville, and to sponsor the attendance of ten foreign students at the annual "International Ball" March 4 in St. Louis. Plans were made to combine with Madison Rotarians for a joint meeting Feb. 15.

St. Peter Church Elects New Officers

The following officers were elected this week at the annual dinner meeting of the Council of St. Peter United Church of Christ.

Arnold Arbogast, president; John Graham, vice-president; Mrs. Alice Elledge, treasurer; and Mrs. Dorothy Buente, secretary.

The meeting was held at the church and outgoing Council members were honored. They were Richard Branding, George Hayes and Clarence Baumeier. Mrs. Georgia Boettger, another outgoing officer, was out of the city on vacation. Graham is the retiring president.

Mrs. Arbogast served as master of ceremonies and chairman of the dinner. There were talks by several of the members and by the pastor, Rev. Robert Bannman, and Sunday school superintendent, Ralph Monken.

Assisting with the dinner preparations, decorating and serving were Mrs. Leola Arbogast, Mrs. Monken, Mrs. Arline Brinkmeyer, Mrs. Mary Alice Farrell, Mrs. Virginia McLeister, Cheryl Brinkmeyer, Mrs. Eva Arbogast and Colleen Arbogast.

Mrs. Dorothy Buente, Mrs. Elledge, and Mrs. Thelma Baker were in charge of entertainment which consisted of songs by Miss Berre Baker, accompanied by Miss Karen Bondegard; piano selections by Ron Matson and songs by Michael Farwell, accompanied at the piano by Janet Young.

Rail Employee Files $300,000 Damage Suit

A $300,000 damage suit was filed this week for Noah Thurman of Madison against the Norfolk and Western Railroad in Madison county circuit court.

We Were Always Friends, Maeras Says of Fraundorf

Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison described today as "just a lot of political talk" a report this week that former Sheriff Barney Fraundorf was "back in the mayor's good graces after four years of political enmity."

The mayor said: "I don't know what they mean by the word 'graces.' I have my own definition of that. But if they mean we are friends, we have always been friends. Sure, we have had our differences politically, but those differences usually were between our political associates which involved us on different sides. I don't know of any time that Barney and I haven't been on speaking terms."

The mayor said the report that Fraundorf had been calling on the mayor regularly in recent weeks, giving rise to the "palis again" theory, obviously resulted from conferences in which he and Fraundorf discussed efforts to obtain reappointment of a number of Madison men, formerly employed by Fraundorf, to staff of newly elected sheriff George Musso.

"We had a number of discussions concerning these employees who were good men under Fraundorf and whom we wanted kept on the sheriff's staff when Fraundorf went out of office. We succeeded in saving most of the jobs. We are both Democrats and we both had an objective," Mayor said.

"I have always said that Fraundorf is one of the best police officers I know," Maeras added. "Although he has not been asked for a job in Madison and staff has given no indication he wants etc., I would help him if he did make such a request."

Fraundorf was Madison police chief before being elected county sheriff in 1962. He could not be reached for comment.

Battery Charge Filed

PLEDGE FOR 1967!

Since 1914 — about 53 years this company has operated on the premise that the store that gave the greatest values would continue to thrive and grow. All of the savings we have offered have been in cash. Profits have been kept to a minimum.

Naturally, price is not everything. We know that probably courtesy comes first, parking, cleanliness, assortment, etc., etc., are all not only important, but necessary.

Because we are getting old does not necessarily mean we won't change, but at this moment we are of the opinion that our original ideas are still the best. We pledge ourselves to continue.

Ann Crowley's Table Topics

The food problems for my family are just like those of your family. My children want plain foods and lots of it, my husband wants tasty, interesting food attractively served, and I'm concerned with the nutrition and economy of the meals.

With a family of seven children, we have lots of snacks, bag lunches and parties. The peanut butter and bananas disappear from our cupboard like magic, and it seems we have another children's party before we recover from the last one.

The topics I will discuss with you will be drawn from my experience as a mother of a hungry family and from my role as a professional dietitian. I will make suggestions for meal planning, diet foods, party fare and sometimes just a suggestion for what to have for Sunday supper. The recipes I present will only be those that I have used. You might say they will be "Crowley kitchen tested." I hope I will be able to help you to some extent with the purchasing and planning as well as the preparation of the more than one thousand meals a year and heaven knows how many snacks.

Let's start with one of the Crowley's favorite meals. On Saturday noon we always have hamburgers. John and I have the special blue cheese filling but the children prefer their plain with onion, mustard, pickles, catsup, sliced tomato, lettuce and mayonnaise.

HAMBURGER RECIPE

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 cup crushed crackers
- 1/2 cup milk
- Pepper
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients and divide into patties. Spread the topping over the patties. Broil until done. Serve on toasted sesame seed bun.

It makes me hungry thinking about these juicy hamburgers!

Labor Council Discusses Hospital Drive, Union

Delegates to the Tri-City Trades Labor Council met last night at the Labor Temple, while discussing the organization of employees at St. Elizabeth Hospital decided not to take a stand as yet on the $2.00 modernization and expansion public fund drive being started by the hospital.

Edwin Relske, council president, said Thomas Griffin, sub-director of the United Steelworkers, reviewed conferences with Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator, for the 30 delegates in attendance.

The initial conference was held three months ago and the administrator declined to commit herself with the group, Griffin said. Representatives of the State, County and Municipal Employees' Union are endeavoring to enroll the 600 hospital employees.

Relske said he was unable to say what percentage of hospital employees had signed union cards, but that he knew several departments were near the 100% mark.

Youth Slashed with Knife by Motorist

A Granite City youth was slashed with a knife by an annoying motorist at 9:30 p.m. Monday at Rock road and Denver street.

Roger Clutts, 17, of 1322 Meridian street, told police that he had passed a slow-moving car and then the other driver suddenly bumped into the rear of his.

The youth said that he stopped his car, and that the other driver also stopped, walked up to him, stabbed him in the hand and slashed him across the front of the head. The man then drove east on Rock road.

Clutts was treated at St. Elizabeth hospital and provided police with a description of the assailant after he was released.

Pfc John Robertson Serving in Vietnam

Marine Pfc John M. Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Robertson, 1224 Robin street, Venice, has been transferred to Vietnam where he will serve with a Marine helicopter unit.

Robertson's squadron is responsible for the operation and maintenance of the Huey and "Sea Knight" helicopters.

Morris Byrd Assigned At Ft. Leonard Wood

Morris L. Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Byrd of 5 Briarcliff drive is undergoing basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood after enlisting in the Army this month.

Morris, a 1966 high school graduate, has selected the Army Security Agency as his service specialty.

Nameoki Township Locates Feb. 7 Candidate Caucuses

Complying with the present Illinois statute, which permits filing for office in township elections only by candidates selected at caucuses, the Nameoki township board designated locations for the Feb. 7, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7, meetings.

The action was taken Tuesday evening following requests for the caucuses to be held at the township board of auditors, the statute states.

Those persons eligible to vote in the township caucuses include precinct committeemen and registered voters who have previously designated political affiliation by voting in the April 1964 or June 1966 primary elections, it was stated.

EOC Officers Aid

In other business, Briggs reported that representatives from the Madison County County Opportunity Commission have requested the township authorities participate in a federally-aided program, whereby unemployed married men with dependent children would be hired for a specific project within the township.

The supervisor said that a project such as proposed by the EOC would be greatly beneficial for a general clean-up and levee repair program in the Canton Creek area, which he described as in very neglected condition.

Briggs added, "If we decide to sponsor such a program with the economic opportunity group, funds amounting to 90% of the total cost will be contributed by the federal government, with the township providing 10% in 'in kind' services, such as furnishing supervisory personnel and equipment." He said that engineers had been consulted about a Canton Creek clearance project and estimated that the township would be approximately $200,000.

Briggs also said that cooperation with the EOC in this initial program may be the stepping-stone needed to progressively clean up the entire township area.

Nomination by Parties

Nomination of township candidates on party tickets, as opposed to previous elections when those seeking township offices could file independent petitions, was decreed in a recent legal opinion handed down by Illinois Atty. Gen. William Clark. The opinion grew out of a request by Wood River township officials who sought a ruling on the legality of filing township office candidacies by petitions circulated by independent candidates. Clark's opinion involves seven Madison county townships, including Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships in the Quad City area.

Clark's opinion returns to independent candidates filing is pending in the state legislature. According to the present statute, the township central committee, consisting of all of the precinct committeemen of each political party, determines the method of voting, appoints judges of elections and canvasses the election results at each caucus.

Study of Area Coal May Be Cancelled

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is expected to drop its request for a study on the availability of low sulfur content coal in the two-state area.

Lawrence Ross, St. Louis county supervisor and chairman of the Gateway Council, said yesterday he agrees with the spokesman for Washington University that as long as the air pollution boards of Illinois and Missouri are to set coal standards, the study would not be needed.

The study was to have been conducted by Southern Illinois University, Washington University and St. Louis University.

Income Tax Refunds

Can be Taken in Bonds

U. S. savings bonds may be purchased with 1966 federal income tax refunds; Illinois taxpayers due refunds can take them in Series E bonds. Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said today: "Individual income tax forms—1040 and 1040A—provide a space for taxpayers to elect U. S. savings bonds for their income tax refunds. Philpott pointed out: "When a taxpayer elects to take his refund in Series E bonds, he builds financial security for himself and his country. Those who check the savings bond election on their tax return join millions of Americans who are investing in their country's future and their own," he commented.

MORE ABOUT

would lose a portion of its area south of 23rd street to the First Ward and would be expanded east to Nameoki road. The Fourth Ward would extend from West Granite into the Nameoki area.

Both Moerlen and Whitmer said they would welcome the threatened legal action by citizens in giving the redistricting task to a court if the council fails to act.

Fry read a clipping from the Press-Record which quoted Moerlen as stating in 1965 that he did not believe the city needed a special census for redistricting and that he felt the council could do the job.

Proponents of redistricting pointed out that the present differential of population ranging from an estimated 3000 to 12,000 would be cut to 4000 to 6000. Whitmer said the largest wards still are the Sixth and Eighth where continued growth is anticipated. "I'm not objecting to being expanded," he said, "but I do object to a part of it being taken away."

Better Representation

Fry remarked that redistricting has been a council project since 1965, and that the committee's plan provides Granite City with better representation. Rutledge added that he realized a number of the boundaries were not straight lines, but that the committee tried to do its best "for the people, the city, and the aldermen."

Moerlen at that point said he would make every effort to stop the plan, adding, "I didn't like the way it was thrown at us and put up for passage before we could even study it."

Rutledge reminded him that was two weeks ago.

Bartosiak asked City Atty. Allen what would happen to petitions filed by candidates under the present ward setup.

Allen replied that candidates should restrict their petitioning in areas which would be within their ward confines under the present and new plan. The filing period for city candidates ends Feb. 13.

Auto Window Broken

Mrs. Sandy Pence, 2914 Myrtle avenue, reported at 5:10 p.m. Wednesday that vandals threw a rock through the window of her 1963 auto while it was parked in front of her home after Monday evening.

Four Hubcaps Stolen

Four spinner-type hubcaps were stolen off the 1965 auto of Cloree Grizzard, 3235 Edgewood avenue, while it was parked on the lot at the Tri-Mor Bowl between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Charged with Speeding

Dennis M. Barbee, 4012 Mueller avenue, was issued an arrest ticket on a speeding charge at 2500 Madison avenue at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. He was summoned for a hearing by Jan. 31.

It was on a first reading motion. He appealed to City Atty. Allen, who said the first deferral was the only one that would follow the council's procedure.

"Nice try, Charlie," Alderman Thompson commented.

"I haven't lost yet," Moerlen replied.

Thompson said that if the deferral was recognized, it would be the first time he ever knew of a double-deferral on the same action.

"This is a separate motion, and in the past there have been deferrals on separate motions," Moerlen stated.

As other aldermen joined the debate, Moerlen called for a point of order. "I call upon my friends on the council," he said, "but straight lines, but that the committee tried to do its best

"for the people, the city, and the aldermen."

Moerlen at that point said he would make every effort to stop the plan, adding, "I didn't like the way it was thrown at us and put up for passage before we could even study it."

both the $8,000,000 bond issue and one for $1,900,000.

"But that's for the council to decide," he added.

Several aldermen reminded Moerlen that the council had been on record favoring the $8,000,000 city-wide program for sanitary sewers in North Granite and other areas without the lines and for a city-wide drainage program with separate lines and ditches for storm water.

Thompson noted the $8,000,000 bond issue would benefit the entire city, while the smaller one would cover only small areas now without sanitary sewers and provide only a start on storm water separation from the city's present combined sanitary and storm water sewers.

"I'll be a plain citizen after the April 4 city election, and I'm sure I won't favor a step-by-step program, requiring one bond issue election after another," he added.

Entering the discussion, Fry said the city's prime need is to get an engineer and detailed plans "so we'll know what improvements will be made in every area of the city."

Thompson added that if the city holds to the smaller, $3,400,000 program, only 18 homes in the Eighth Ward that do not now have sanitary sewers, will benefit. "That's no selling point for 2900 voters," he commented.

Prepare 2 Bond Ordinances

Moerlen said that the committee majority plans for the bond attorney to prepare ordinances for both the $8,000,000 and the $1,900,000 bond issue and to determine if revenue bonds can be issued instead of general obligation bonds for the sanitary sewers.

Mayor Partney urged the council to proceed with the $8,000,000 program, only 18 homes in the Eighth Ward that do not now have sanitary sewers, will benefit. Granite City has received this $1,900,000 federal grant, and it's the best thing that ever happened for the people.

"We got the biggest grant of any city in the country, and over 3000 applied. We were prepared, and that's why we got it. We don't want to lose it."

Before departing, the aldermen called for the city inspection staff to take further steps to force a householder on Illinois avenue to get rid of a horse and ducks and to investigate a trash complaint concerning a residence on Emzee street.

Supervisors Veto

bars are increasing through the state.

In a roll call vote to overrule the zoning board, only one dissenting vote was cast.

There were no dissenters on a motion by Joseph Troeckler, Chouteau township supervisor, to overrule the denial of a special use permit for Wilbur W. Wolf to set a mobile home on his property along Nameoki road. He explained that the state highway department had obtained most of the property for right-of-way purposes.

Objects to Ponies

Jack Clifford, zoning administrator, was criticized by a woman living in R-1 residential district of Godfrey township who complained that he failed to take action against a neighbor who had built a retaining wall on their property line and also kept six ponies in his back yard, creating a nuisance.

Clifford explained to the board that nothing in the current ordinance prevented this. He said there are many such weaknesses and flaws in the zoning ordinance, but that amendments to correct most are now in the planning stages.

The board meeting opened with the reading of Roger Delour as the new assistant supervisor of Nameoki township. He succeeded Charles Werner, who resigned because of illness. The term expires in April.

Eagle Acres Engineer

A resolution to enter an agreement with the consulting engineering firm of Shepard, Morgan & Schwaab for the proposed Eagle Park Acres sewer system was approved. The action was necessary for the unincorporated area to qualify for a federal grant. The county is serving as the municipal agent.

John Kravayak, county auditor, reported that the county ended the fiscal year on Dec. 31 with a balance of $455,609, an increase of $4831 over last year. He said the county saved $56,025 in the budget by holding down expenditures, and that the county received more than anticipated from the fee office, sales taxes and state's attorney's fines in "balancing in the black once again."

At the end of the meeting the board viewed a 20-minute color film on sanitation produced by the U. S. Health Department.

Speeding Charge Filed

Albert D. Olson, 2530 East 25th street, was charged with speeding at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues at 10:20 p.m. Wednesday. He was summoned for a hearing by Feb. 3.

GC to Go After Model City, Urban Renewal Grants

City council members voted Monday night to explore two possibilities of obtaining federal tax grants under the "model city" and urban renewal programs.

A meeting is being arranged here for Jan. 30 with members of the Chicago offices of the Federal Housing & Urban Development office and members of the council and City Plan Commission to go over requirements which will be needed for the city to qualify for urban renewal funds.

The city plans to prepare a list of needed projects, such as off-street parking in the downtown business district and in the vicinity of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Meeting in Chicago

Under the model city program, the council voted to send William Hoelscher, chairman of the City Plan Commission, to Chicago on Jan. 26 to attend a regional meeting with officials of several federal agencies who will outline procedures and qualifications.

Hoelscher then is to submit a report to the city.

No action was taken by the council on a report submitted by Hoelscher, chairman of the City Plan Commission's approval of zoning changes requested by Dr. Gerard M. Baggot, establish an office with parking at a residence at 3408 and 3410 Nameoki road. The council had rejected proposal which has been under consideration since the initial petition was filed last April. At hearings, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Ropac, 1588 Lindell blvd., had filed objections.

Letters of Notice

Alderman Rutledge, Planning Committee chairman, recommended a letter be sent to Dr. Baggot's lawyer, advising him of the council's rejection of the zoning change. "In the future, the city clerk should send out notices in each case of a zoning change request, advising the petitioners of the council's action," he suggested.

Approval was given to Mrs. Bernadine Hagnauer, chairman of this month's March of Dimes campaign for the Mothers' Perchlight March on Jan. 29 and 30 and for collections to be carried out by volunteers on Jan. 20 and again Jan. 27 from 4 to 7 p.m. at three downtown locations—Niedringhaus at Edison avenues, Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues and at 20th and State streets.

Boy Scout Display

Permission was given Scoutmaster James Kramer, for Boy Scout Troop 122, sponsored by Wilson school PTA, to set up a Boy Scout Week exhibit on the city hall lawn on Feb. 11 and 18.

Unanimous approval was given by council members to a letter of commendation written by Mayor Partney for Police Patrolman Richard Wood, who while on a Christmas holiday rescued a three-year-old girl who had fallen into a swimming pool near San Antonio, Tex.

"We're proud to have such an officer on the force," the mayor stated in commenting on Officer Wood's heroic action.

Permission was given for a meeting to be arranged by Comptroller Robert Stevens with city officials and representatives of Xerox Corp. on an increase due March 1 on rental of copying machines. Alderman Bartolish suggested the city look into its contract with the firm.

Mrs. Marie Dahmer, 60, Dies of Cancer

Mrs. Marie Dahmer, 60, of 1517 Joy avenue, succumbed to cancer at 9:26 p.m. Monday at St. Luke's Hospital, St. Louis. She had been ill three months and a patient at the hospital three days.

A resident here for 25 years, Mrs. Dahmer was born at Deni-phan, Mo. She was a member of the Madison Methodist Church. Surviving are her husband, Arnold Dahmer; two sons, Gene Downey of Granite City and Bob Lee Downey of Dallas, Tex.; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today. Details are given elsewhere in this issue.

Faces Assault Charge

Thomas Ingram, 18, of 715 Washington street, West Madison, was arrested by Venice police at 6:45 p.m. Monday on a warrant charging assault. Police said Ingram was arrested on complaint by Ruby Sholer, who charged that Ingram displayed a knife and threatened her with it.

Auto Battery Stolen

Vernon Ollis, 2038 Washington avenue, reported at 10:25 p.m. Monday that a 12-volt battery was stolen from his auto while it was parked at his home.

Fined $105 Over Mishap

Hobart Fuller, 23, of 3111 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was involved in an auto accident Sunday night at 22nd and Iowa streets, was fined a total of $105 Monday in magistrate's court on charges of intoxication, driving with an expired license and careless driving.

Ma and Pa License Plates for GC Couple

Mr. and Mrs. William Brewer, 1104 West Pontoon road, are proud of their new 1967 state auto license plates which they have on their cars. She has "MA-1922" and he has "PA-1922."

Mrs. Brewer explained the plates were sent to them on special request, indicating they are parents and were born in 1922. Brewer is a Granite City Steel Co. employee.

240 Moves by Local Residents in December

The Associated Retailers' monthly report released this week shows there were 240 moves by Quad-Cityans, during December.

Of the total, there were 41 moves into the Quad-City area, 49 moves by Quad-Cityans to other areas and 150 moves within the area.

Two Muzzle Low Fines

Elma Jackson, 2659 Fourteenth street, and Corrine V. White, 2534 Grand avenue, were issued arrest summons Tuesday on charges of permitting their dogs to run loose while unmuzzled. Complaints were signed by Donald Krause, humane officer. The women were fined $5 plus $5 costs, each.

C. W. Miller, 84, Dies; Collapses Near Home

Charlie W. Miller, 84, of Apt. 34, Grenzer Homes, Madison, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital, at 1:58 p.m. Monday, shortly after he had collapsed near his home while walking to a nearby grocery.

Efforts by an ambulance driver using oxygen equipment failed to revive him. Members of the Madison fire department's inhibitor crew also responded to a phone call from neighbors in the apartment building who witnessed Mr. Miller collapse. He had been in failing health the past year.

A retired construction worker, Mr. Miller had lived in Madison for 15 years, having moved to the Quad-Cities from Murphysboro, Ill. He was born at Jeffersonville, Ill., and was a member of the Temple Baptist Church in Madison. His wife, Mrs. Sybil Miller, died in June 1964.

Mr. Miller is survived by one daughter, Miss Florence Marie Miller of Madison.

Funeral services were held here yesterday. Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

State Young Democrats Plan to Increase Clubs

Efforts to organize active young Democrat clubs within traditionally Republican counties will be one of the principal topics to be discussed at an executive meeting of the Young Democrats of Illinois tomorrow and Saturday, in Chicago.

Among those participating in the state board's two-day session will be Daniel Chuvpik, 2832 Edwards street, first vice president of the state organization and Democratic committeeman for Granite City Precinct 21.

Traffic Problem in Front of GC HS

Contract Ok'd for Primrose Ave. Drainage

Award of a $4765 contract to construct a drainage line along Primrose avenue, no-stopping controls on Madison avenue in front of the high school and a call for enforcement of the no-parking law for a distance of 20 feet from intersections were among items before Granite City council members Monday night.

The Primrose drainage line is to be built by General Contracting Co. and will include 580 feet of 12-inch line. The only other bid was $5145 by A. H. Seebold Co.

Alderman Thompson complained that signs are causing confusion in front of the high school, where southbound motorists are creating a hazard and bottleneck by stopping on the two-lane pavement where there is the median to drop off students.

Easy Solution at GC HS

"They could go another couple hundred feet to where Madison avenue is wider and there is a parking area and the problem could be solved," he said, adding that the jam-up occurs between 7:30 and 8 a.m.

The matter was referred to the Traffic Commission to determine proper signs and for the police department to carry out enforcement.

Alderman Poulos complained that trucks are continuing to park at intersection—blocking the view of stop signs and traffic—and also in fire hydrant zones. He called for enforcement of city ordinances prohibiting such parking.

Notice to Subdividers

Subdividers and developers are to be notified by letters from the City Plan Commission that sidewalks are required in new areas. Alderman Fry noted that the ordinance, calling for walks was approved a year ago and many builders say they are unaware of it.

Fry also called for the city to enter into a contract with Henry Ross, developer, for the paving of the west end of St. Clair avenue at Maryville road. The cost to the city in a joint project is estimated at $800.

Ordinances were adopted to give two local firms permission to install underground oxygen pipelines under city streets. Air Products & Chemical Corp. is to install a two-inch line along State street, Grand avenue and 15th street to serve Granite City Steel Co. and Lipsett Steel Products.

2220 East 23rd street, was given permission for a similar two-inch line along Monroe and East 23rd streets.

Rental Fee Proposed

Alderman Bartos called for the city to study the possibility of obtaining a rental fee for such usage of streets, and City Atty. Allen was asked to gather information for such contracts.

Referred to the Street and Personnel committees and the mayor was a letter from Bricklayers Local 65 asking for either a full-time bricklayer to be added to the street department or for sidewalk on catchbasins and manholes to be awarded under contract with a firm hiring union bricklayers.

Alderman Ford Johnson said he had received the letter from Paul Zupan, business agent for the union, and recommended compliance with the request.

Several aldermen noted that a bricklayer's pay is much higher than the amount paid regular street employees, and that hiring an added man for the street department would require an amendment to the ordinance which now limits the department size to 25 men. Budget action also would be needed.

MFT Requests

Authorization was given for two requests for supplemental motor fuel tax funds for recently completed street projects—$600 for the joint Granite City-Madison improvement to McCambridge avenue and $484 for the joint city-county project for improvement of Maryville road. City payment of $307 to Union Electric Co. for relocation of power towers along McCambridge avenue (Martin street) also was approved.

An excavation permit was approved for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to install a cable at 21st street and Grand avenue.

Requests were submitted by aldermen for no-parking and speed restrictions.

A 150-foot no-parking zone on the west end of Cleveland blvd., north from 20th street is needed because of the larger bookmobile of the public library.

Alderman Moorhead, a member with the new bookmobile trailer, the driver is unable to drive off the library parking lot onto Cleveland avenue when cars are parked on the west side of the street.

Basarich called for a 20-mph speed limit to be established on Maple street "to slow traffic from the Army Depot."

Nonn requested school crosswalk lines be painted at Nierlinghaus avenue and Maple street and at West 20th and Maple streets.

Truck Strikes Sign

A two-ton Goodwill Industries truck driven by Raymond T. Harris of St. Louis struck a sign on Smith's Joe's liquor store parking lot at St. Clair avenue and Nameoki road on Monday. Glass was knocked out of the sign which was turned on its post when hit by the right front corner of the truck bed.

GC Progressing to Cleaner Air, Board Says

In the first year of operation the Granite City Air Pollution Board has made a "significant start" toward abatement of air pollution in the Quad-City area and will show a substantial reduction in pollution levels during the current year, according to the board's first annual report to the city council Monday night.

A request for modification of the Granite City ordinance probably will be made this year, the report said, so that the local measure will conform with standards of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board that are to be adopted soon.

The report reviewed activities of the board during the 1966 year, pointing out that three members of the original board were replaced prior to the end of the past year. They included Thomas Boker, former chairman of the board who moved out of the city; E. R. Burnett, who resigned; and Dr. Irvin Wiseman, who died. Appointed to these vacancies were Theodore Macios, Mrs. Melvin Freedman and Dr. George Wilkins.

Henry Bielecki, formerly vice-chairman, was named chairman to succeed Boker, and Macios was named vice-chairman and secretary.

Reducing Air Pollution

The report, submitted to the council by Alderman Samuel Whitner, chairman of the city council's Air Pollution committee and a member of the Air Pollution board, noted that "the year 1966 was actually the first full year of operation of the Air Pollution Control Board, and a significant start has been made."

"While most communities in the area are debating the form of Air Pollution Control, Granite City is working with its present ordinance and will show a significant local reduction in air pollution in 1967."

The report also reviewed action taken by the board, under a complaint filed by its acting technical secretary, Prof. Erwin C. Hoelscher of Washington University, to effect a reduction in hydrogen-sulfide emissions at the Granite City Steel Co. plant. Hydrogen-sulfide pollution was blamed for paint discoloration throughout the area.

As a result of the board's action the company now is installing equipment to eliminate future discharge of the pollutant from the vent stack. The new equipment was approved by Prof. Hoelscher.

An application also has been made by the board for a U. S. Public Health Service grant of $1,150 for pollution control activities. Of the amounts, Granite City would provide $10,284, the report said.

Opens Board Office

An office for air pollution control has been established in room 11 of the City Hall, and Hoelscher maintains office hours each Tuesday from 12:30 to 4 p.m., the report said, noting that the acting technical secretary is available to citizens and industries for receiving complaints or assisting in air pollution problems.

"With continued cooperation between the citizens, industries and government of Granite City, notable improvements have been realized in the air pollution in Granite City," the report concluded.

A supplemental report by Bielecki and Macios were filed with the council, covering activities of the National Conference on Air Pollution which the two board members attended in Washington, D. C., last month.

Pollution Cost High

The report related that Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President on Consumer Affairs, told the conference that the cost of air pollution is estimated as high as $800 per year for a family of four.

These costs result from such items as excessive washing and cleaning of clothing, rapid deterioration of clothing and many household items, more frequent and more expensive painting, more frequent car washings, drugs and medical treatment for more frequent colds and respiratory infections and rapid depreciation of residential and other property values.

Bielecki and Macios reported that they conferred with Gov. Kerner during the convention and were assured by the governor that the state will lend all possible assistance to any local program for air pollution abatement. The two board members also conferred with Congressman Melvin Price.

"In summary," the report by Bielecki and Macios said, "the conference was very worthwhile in focusing national attention on the air pollution abatement problem."

It served also as a common meeting ground for federal officials, local enforcement personnel, medical and health groups, legislators and private industry representatives to exchange views and opinions; and to chart new directions for future action on the problems. It was apparent, however, that there will be no enforcement at the local level, except, perhaps, in cases involving navigational hazards to airports or similar situations."

Collide in Venice

A car driven by Norman Fulkerson, 2807 Sheridan avenue, was damaged at the left rear at 4:55 p.m. Monday at Market and State streets in Venice when it collided with another car driven by William Baucum, 1044 Logan street, Venice, collided. The Baucum car was undamaged, police said. The mishap occurred as Fulkerson was headed east on Market street, making a left turn onto State street.

City to Call for Two Fire Plug Installations

Installation of two additional fire hydrants was recommended to Granite City council members Monday night by Fire Chief Earl Fronsbarger, and Alderman Ford Johnson, chairman of the Fire and Water committee, requested preparation for a resolution calling for the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. to install the plugs.

Locations specified were the 3200 block of Kilmer drive and at 23rd and Adams streets. Johnson also reported that his committee was continuing franchise talks with officials of the water company, and that he had no progress to report.

1967 will be Boom Year for College Grads; Demand Up

Demand for college-trained manpower by business and industry is so "bullish" that 1967 graduates will enjoy what may be the "most competitive recruiting season in history."

This prediction is made by Royce R. Bryant, director of placement services at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, and president of College Placement Council, Inc., on the basis of the council's mid-year survey of job offers.

Offers to bachelor's degree candidates reported by placement officers at 116 colleges and universities are running 42% ahead of 1965, and demand for technical students has climbed 58% in the two-year period, the survey shows.

Salaries offered have risen 5.2% to an average of $702 per month for bachelor's-degree candidates with a technical background and 4.6% to $596 for non-technical graduates.

The aerospace industry, as in the past, is the "hottest" area for employment, the survey shows, accounting for almost one-third of the total number of job offers.

Other areas of great demand are public utilities, electronics, chemicals and drugs, metals, public accounting, and petroleum.

Dollar-wise, the electronics industry is in first place with an average of $715 a month.

By major fields of training, the greatest demand is for electrical engineering graduates, followed by mechanical engineering, accounting and business.

The volume of offers to doctoral degree candidates is almost double that of a year ago, while the master's degree volume is up 16%.

Choose Fryers for Greatest Menu Variety

If chicken is a good buy, but you haven't decided in advance how to cook it, should you choose a fryer or a stewer?

The correct answer is to choose a fryer, according to the recent USDA educational television program, "National Food, Buyers Quiz."

The broiler-fryer, as it is sometimes called, is a tender, young bird that can be fried, broiled, barbecued, roasted or even stewed. But a stewing chicken is an older bird limited to moist-heat cooking if you want tender meat.

The label will tell you whether you are getting a young bird or a stewer if you buy USDA inspected poultry. All chicken or other poultry that is examined for wholesomeness by the USDA Consumer and Marketing Service must be identified either by its class name, such as fryer or roaster, or by the terms "young" or "mature" on the label.

Many Older Women Get Less Protein Than Needed

Everyone, regardless of age, needs protein for repair and upkeep of body tissues.

The total daily protein needs increase steadily from birth to adolescence and then decrease to a maintenance level for adulthood.

Studies show that many women 40 years of age or older eat less than the "daily needed amount" of protein. And one study showed that diets for women over 40 years of age contained 18% less protein than the recommended daily allowance.

Milk Price in Area Not Expected to Change

A one-quarter cent per half gallon drop in price paid to the dairy farmer for rough milk by milk processors will not reduce current retail prices in the Quad-Cities, a commercial dairy spokesman said today.

Commenting on a one-two-cent reduction on half-gallons of milk in retail stores in Missouri, the spokesman said that Missouri retail store prices are controlled by law; whereas Illinois milk prices in stores are formed competitively.

"In St. Louis the consumer is currently paying 51-52 cents per half gallon of milk, because the retail store is bound by law to sell the milk at about 15% above his cost, and cannot reduce this price without permission from the governing body. In Illinois, milk prices are much lower than that, about three half-gallons for $1."

A retail grocer here said that milk prices cannot be reduced and make a profit, but that if retail chains reduced their prices, independents would probably follow along to compete.

The dairy spokesman said that the one-quarter cent drop is probably due to the federal-milk marketing administration forcing a milk surplus in the spring, when dairy cattle normally produce more milk.

New Wing of Hospital would Replace Outmoded Operating and Recovery Rooms

The entire first floor of the proposed new 10th street wing at St. Elizabeth Hospital will be devoted to operating rooms, along with a recovery suite and an intensive care unit of 12 beds or more.

At present, the operating rooms on the fourth floor in the 1931 wing of the hospital along busy Madison avenue are termed to be inadequate and unacceptable. Under the hospital's $8,500,000, 20-year modernization and expansion program, the outdated 1931 wing will be razed.

In carrying out his survey of the hospital's present facilities and the needs for the next 20 years, Dr. Anthony J. J. Rourke, New York hospital consultant, described the present operating and recovery room suite as "dismal" and lacking the detail of modern surgery design. In fact, after his survey, Dr. Rourke concluded: "There is nothing good which can be said for this department."

Deficiencies Outlined
Outlining the deficiencies, the consultant said:

"The size of the surgeries is unsatisfactory, since the concept of such a division of rooms for special purposes has been abandoned in modern hospital planning, merely because of the inflexibility introduced into day-to-day operations."

The hospital currently has an average of more than 10 operations a day. There are two major rooms, each with about 16 x 20 foot dimensions, along with a minor surgery room 9 x 17 feet and a dental operating room of about the same size. The recovery suite consists of a cystoscopic room, an examination room and an adjoining office with x-ray equipment and a desk.

Dr. Rourke noted that the standard size of an operating room in a hospital similar to St. Elizabeth should be 20 x 20 feet. "All rooms, except those used for cystoscopy or orthopedics, should be this size or larger, merely to permit flexible use of space."

"A minor operation can be done in a major room, but a major operation cannot be done in a minor room. The present small rooms are too limited in size for even minor operations."

Floors, ceilings and walls are non-conductive. There are free-standing radiators in the rooms, making cleaning more difficult. Fans are in some of the rooms to aid ventilation.

"Between the two major rooms, there is a scrub area with only two sinks, and there is no high-speed sterilizer in the adjacent sub-sterilizing area. There is no scrub sink for the smaller operating rooms."

There are no built-in mechanical conveniences or outlets, and the nursing service areas are minimal, with only a hand sink and a counter and storage area at one end of the room.

Dr. Rourke pointed out the elevator in the 1931 wing opens within the center of the operating suite, and there is no effective corridor barrier. The major operating rooms are in a dead-end location, as is desirable, but the area is not zoned to entirely prevent unauthorized personnel from being barred.

The doctors' locker room is adjacent to the old elevator, and they enter the suite in street clothes.

A new concept in operating room design is a triple corridor, primarily to segregate traffic within the operating room. All patients enter the department through one door and enter or leave the operating theater by a peripheral corridor.

With the triple corridor, patients enter the suite in street clothes.

Use of the operating rooms at the hospital has increased greatly in the past 12 years—from 1532 in 1954 to 3885 in 1965. Of the 3885 total, 1041 were major operations and 2844 were minor.

NEWER HOSPITALS have operating rooms like the one above. The operating suite at St. Elizabeth Hospital is located in the 1931 wing along Madison avenue, which is to be razed when the new wing along Iowa street is completed.

TILE FLOOR with missing tile in one of the main operating rooms at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The entire operating suite is to be replaced under the first phase of the hospital's $8,500,000, 20-year modernization and expansion program, for which a public subscription of $2,000,000 is being started.

CRAMMED, CRAMPED QUARTERS in the minor surgery room at the local hospital. The room closely resembles a pantry and leaves little room for movement by the doctors and nurses.

Patients enter and leave the operating room by the peripheral corridor, not being in contact with preparatory procedures and processing of equipment, instruments and supplies. Also, activities of surgeons and nurses scrubbing and gowning, preparation of sterile instruments and supplies and movement to operating rooms take place within the protected inner area, away from contact with other activities.

The new operating suite also would provide for the walking patient who requires only minor surgery. A gowning and waiting area would be provided close to the entrance to the suite and convenient to cystoscopy and the operating rooms to be used in minor surgery.

The recovery room would contain a special room for pre-anesthetic preparation and post-surgery rest and observation of the patients.

Use of the operating rooms at the hospital has increased greatly in the past 12 years—from 1532 in 1954 to 3885 in 1965. Of the 3885 total, 1041 were major operations and 2844 were minor.

Street Light to Go Up at RR Station

Granite City council members approved Monday night the installation of a street light at the GM&O station—now closed—at the 20th street crossing. It also was reported that Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has agreed to install a pay phone at the station for the convenience of train passengers.

While the council is giving up on getting the station re-opened, it is continuing with its protest of GM&O passenger trains being consolidated on the St. Louis-Chicago runs, reducing the number to one in each direction.

It was noted that a large number of Granite City students attend colleges along the rail line and ride the trains. A letter has been sent to the Illinois Commerce Commission by the city objecting to the ICC's interim order approving the train consolidation.

Bus Rerouting Opposed
Another letter sent to the ICC by City Atty. Allen objecting to a rerouting of Delux Trailways buses to bypass the city. The bus firm is asking to change its route from Hamel to St. Louis over U. S. 66 instead of the present route through Granite City over Bypass 66, State Route 3 and old U. S. 67 and 66.

A hearing on the petition is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Feb. 17 at Springfield instead of the original Jan. 18 date. City Atty. Allen was instructed to take further action, if necessary.

The council still is in the process of rearranging local bus zones of the Bi-State Transit Co. Also referred to the city attorney were notices of tax objections filed by Norfolk & Western; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Chicago & Northwestern; New York Central; Gulf, Mobile & Ohio; Terminal Railroad Association and Illinois Terminal Railroad.

The city attorney is to handle a $25,000 lawsuit filed in circuit court against the city by Mrs. Mildred Harris, who also named the Reinhardt Agency as defendant. She was injured last year when an auto in which she was a passenger hit a large hole near the west end of Idaho avenue where the agency is developing a subdivision, the suit states.

Rich is Named IRMA Chairman for Area

Admittedly concerned over the lack of communication between the complicated process of retailing and the equally complex problem of legislating, the Illinois Retail Merchants Association has selected an "area" approach to the contact procedure which involves IRMA's area chairman for this section of Illinois, Maurice Rich of Rich's Ladies' Apparel Store here.

The program was developed under the direction of Kenneth C. Cole, IRMA executive assistant, whose major effort in this critical year will be to further develop a constructive working relationship with merchants and their legislators.

As the first step in the communications procedure, the association has supplied Rich with a directory including names and addresses of the lawmakers in Springfield and Washington who Earl Davis, 33, of East St. Louis was arrested at 8:30 p.m. Monday on charges of disobeying an officer at an accident at the Edwardsville road-rail crossing, driving without a license and improper use of state license plates. He was held on $425 cash bail and was marked hold for the Madison police department.

Two Collide at Station

Autos driven by James R. Bain, 2313 Terminal avenue, and Viola M. Copeland, Glen Carbon, collided at 1:50 p.m. Monday at an entrance to Bill's service station, East 23rd street and Nameoki road. Both vehicles were turning, police said.

Work Progressing on New Tri-City Park Tabernacle

Walls of the new $375,000 Tri-City Park Tabernacle of the Assembly of God Church are going up and foundations are progressing for other sections of the new church building on the 3½-acre tract of land on Clark avenue, adjacent to Wilshire Manor. The new church is located just outside the Granite City limits.

A parking lot for 200 cars and a church parsonage building also are included in the plans.

The interior of the church will feature a fan-shaped auditorium seating 600 persons and a large balcony seating 200. The overflow rooms to the auditorium will accommodate another 150, providing a total seating capacity of more than 1000.

The Chancel area will be highlighted with a burgundy brick wall, a white-plastered choir loft, with controlled lighting so that varied intensities and colors of light may be suited to the religious setting. A large baptistry is also incorporated in the Chancel area.

An educational unit adapted to modern methods of religious education will have 14 master-size classrooms in which the team-teaching plan will be followed. The fellowship hall and fireside room will furnish space for 275 persons which will be served with modern kitchen. Nurseries for babies and toddlers will be staffed with trained nurses.

The executive wing of the church will furnish offices for the pastor, assistant pastor, choir director, secretaries, Sunday school and youth directors.

A unique feature of the church will be a bride's room where brides may prepare for the matrimonial ceremony. Also planned is an evangelist's apartment, a library and conference and prayer room.

The church will be comfort-controlled with the most modern hot air heating system and 80 tons of air conditioning.

Rev. Lloyd Shoemaker is pastor of the church, which has its building now at 12th and Meridian streets. Robert Clark is the youth minister.

DATA FROM SWINE SEMINAR

Several Madison county hog raisers attended the recent University of Illinois swine seminar at National Stockyards.

A new oral swine erysipelas vaccine administered in drinking water was reported by Extension Veterinarian H. N. Becker. The vaccine organism used is living but is harmless. From 85 to 90% of vaccinated pigs in field trials have become immune. It is effective against adult roundworms, nodular worms, and whipworms. This vaccine also eliminates the immature fourth stage of the roundworm, making it superior to other products, he said. The form is administered in feed. The product is available through veterinarians.

Most swine producers are familiar with hog lice and the damage they can cause. Spraying hogs with any of the currently recommended insecticides is a good method of controlling lice, but recently a new product containing rommel was introduced that is dry U. S. hog production has been increasing at a faster rate than that of any other state. Illinois produces about 14% of the hogs in the U. S.

In view of alternative capital uses, Schwartz said the hog producers' prosperity will depend as much on how well he manages his capital as on how he manages his hogs.

EXTENSION MEETINGS

Upcoming extension meetings in Madison county include a farm leases meeting Fri., Jan. 20, 1 p.m., Farm Bureau building, Edwardsville. Advance enrollments are due in the farm adviser's office Jan. 20 for a two-day sheep production school here on Feb. 9 and Feb. 16.

Takes Sleeping Pills

A Granite City man, 41, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by friends for treatment at 1:45 p.m. Monday after he took an undetermined amount of sleeping pills.

Extension Livestock Specialist G. R. Carlisle reported Purdue's results of feeding high-lysine corn to hogs. Results indicate that with corn at $1.30 per bushel and soybean meal at $100 a ton, $3.50 per ton can be saved by using high-lysine corn in the 16% grower ration and $3.80 per ton by using it in the finisher ration.

High-lysine corn contains about twice as much lysine and tryptophan as normal corn, and has about 11.5% protein compared with a 9% in regular corn. Carlisle has faith that plant breeders will be able to develop high-with the exterior accentuated by lighted crosses. Fan-shaped auditorium seating 600 and balcony for 250 are features of church interior. A 200-car parking lot also will be built.

WALL OF NEW Tri-City Tabernacle, Assembly of God, church rises as excavation for the rest of the building progresses. The structure will embody most modern facilities available, provide classrooms, offices, kitchen, nursery, library, prayer room and other features. Houses in the background are in Wilshire Manor.

Keep Youth Offices Separate, Judges Say

Madison county circuit judges have recommended that probation and youth department offices should remain separate from a county juvenile detention home.

The recommendation is being considered by the detention home committee of the county board of supervisors. Original plans for the detention home included room for the probation office.

A letter from Chief Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr said an outer wall should be constructed for the offices in the event they may later be added to the juvenile facility.

The judges also felt that a courtroom should not be included in the detention home. James Reidelberger, chief juvenile probation officer, said plans had been considered for a hearing room, not a courtroom. The judges said most of the juvenile hearings should continue to be held in the courtroom.

The detention home committee, headed by William B. Loeb of Granite City, is to meet with Sam Sanner of Alton, architect designing plans for the home, to discuss the new recommendation. Construction of a detention home was authorized in the Nov. 8 referendum.

Charles Bernheim, 2900 East 23rd street, reported at 6:30 p.m. Monday that vandals threw an iron post against the rear of his auto, causing a large "crease" in the trunk, while it was parked at his home.
